

ORCHESTRA GIVES FINAL PROGRAM

Concert by Main Line Amateur Players Held Sunday in Ardmore

GIRL PIANO SOLOIST

Despite rainy weather an audience of 1000 heard the final concert of the Main Line Orchestra in the Ardmore Theatre Sunday afternoon.

Under the baton of Adolph Vogel, this group of 44 amateur musicians reached a point of ensemble excellence above that of any previous concert. Exceptionally fine work by the strings featured the program.

Anna Prichard, a charming and talented Philadelphia lass, was piano soloist, playing one number with orchestra accompaniment and two as solos. But 16 years of age, Miss Prichard played with an ease and proficiency which gives great promise of future accomplishments in the field of music.

The concert opened with the overture, "Orpheus in the Underworld," by Offenbach, followed by the menuetto and allegro movements of Haydn's Surprise Symphony, both played with spirit and ease, and with a melodic quality which pleased the hearers.

Miss Prichard's first appearance was as soloist playing Grieg's A-minor Concerto with orchestra accompaniment. The sturdy chords and rapid measures of the piece made her playing stand out well above the accompaniment, in which the orchestra gave her excellent support.

Three shorter pieces followed for the orchestra. They were "Scenes From an Imaginary Ballet," by Taylor, "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak, and "Adagio Eleguque," by Wieniawski.

Miss Prichard chose as solo numbers "Pan and His Pipes," by Godard, and the ever-popular and melodic Polonaise in E, of Liszt. Both these were played with grace and ability and earned generous applause. Four floral offerings also gave tribute to an interest in Miss Prichard by several of her hearers.

The orchestra closed its program with the Sixth Hungarian Dance of Brahms, and the better-known Fifth, by the same author.

It was the unanimous opinion of the audience that conductor Vogel's band of players had performed even better than at some of the other pleasing programs of the past few years. There was more homogeneity, and a greater sureness of touch.

Each year has been typified by a higher brand of musical entertainment by or under the auspices of the orchestra. This year, in addition to three orchestra concerts, there was a splendid song recital by Anna Case, and a most enjoyable concert by the French-Cook-Vogel trio, all given as a part of the season's activities, under the auspices of the Main Line Orchestra.

MAIN LINE ARTISANS HONOR MEMBER ATHLETES

Dykes, of Ardmore Assembly, Given Diamond Pin.

Jimmy Dykes, popular third baseman of the Athletics, was one of the reasons for Artisans' Day at Shibe Park last Saturday when the order honored their two baseball-playing members, Dykes and Rommel, with a special celebration.

Dykes is a member of the Main Line Assembly, meeting at Ardmore, which is one of the progressive subordinate bodies of the fraternity.

After the Artisans' band and the string band, field music and patrol of St. John's Assembly attending in uniform, had paraded around the field, Dykes and Rommel were called to the home plate where Charles H. Grakelow, Director of Public Welfare in Philadelphia and a past most excellent master Artisan, presented the Main Liner with a diamond pin and the famous pitcher with a set of silver.

Bertram Smith, most excellent master Artisan; Allen P. Cox, most excellent recorder; John Lipsey, chairman of the Artisans' extension committee, and Victor I. Ridenour, of Narberth, a past most excellent master Artisan, were among the prominent members of the order in attendance.

High Spots on Local Voting

Pepper polled a vote of 3 to 1 on Vare in Lower Merion and Narberth. Pepper's total was 5154; Vare's 1565.

Fisher ran ahead of the State ticket. His vote was approximately 5 to 1. Fisher got 5519 votes in Lower Merion and Narberth, Beidleman 1183.

Vare captured two districts in Lower Merion, West Ardmore and Pencoyd, both by a plurality of seven votes. He was expected to take Pencoyd but the West Ardmore victory was a surprise.

Woodward polled the largest individual vote, 6546. He was on both the Pepper and Vare tickets. Watson, unopposed for Congress, was next with 5946 in the township and borough.

Narberth voted for Pepper 5 to 1. Cynwyd gave Pepper his largest plurality. It was 591. North Ardmore, the home district of Benjamin H. Ludlow, who was one of the Pepper campaign committee vice presidents, gave the Senator his second largest plurality. It was 471. Merion was next with 416.

Pinchot got a surprisingly low vote here, much lower even than anticipated. He polled but 471 votes in Lower Merion and Narberth.

Fred Peters, organization candidate for Assembly, ran high with a vote of 5211 in the First District. His total was almost double the combined vote of his two opponents. Skelton got 1624 votes, McKernan 1489.

Peters lost the lower district of Upper Merion and the three wards of Bridgeport to McKernan, all of which was expected. He won, however, in the upper district of Upper Merion and in the two West Conshohocken wards, which territory was listed as favorable to McKernan.

Ludlow won over Boyd in the First District by a plurality of 654. He captured seven Lower Merion districts and all three of Narberth. He lost Bala and Cynwyd by comparatively close votes. Ludlow's lead went glimmering, however, when returns from Norristown, Boyd's home district, began to come in.

School Board Elects Three New Teachers at Regular Meeting

The setting of the date for the Junior High School commencement and the election of three new teachers featured the monthly meeting of the School Board Monday night.

The commencement exercises will be held on Thursday afternoon, June 17, at 4 o'clock. The program for the day is being arranged by the principal and members of the faculty.

Three new teachers were elected for next year:

Benjamin J. Cook will have charge of the new Manual Training Department, in addition to having supervision over athletics. He is a graduate of Girard College and the Oswego, N. Y., State Normal School. He also took a postgraduate course at Carnegie Institute. For the past three years he has been a teacher in manual training and industrial work at the Lebanon High School. He will receive a salary of $2000 a year.

Miss Ruby Z. Keborkian was elected teacher-nurse at a salary of $1600. She is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and taught two years at the Parkersburg High School. For the past two years she has been associated with the Friends' Settlement House in Philadelphia.

Miss Alice R. Miller, a graduate of the Lower Merion High School and of the West Chester State Normal School, was elected fourth grade teacher at a salary of $1400. She has had two years of teaching experience at the Darby High School.

The resignation of Miss Jantzen as art instructor was received by the board with regret. She is to leave in order to accept a similar position in the Philadelphia schools. Her successor has not as yet been chosen.

Raymond C. Jones, former tax collector of the borough, turned in a remittance for all 1924 taxes, which was accepted subject to the approval of the auditors. Mr. Jones plans to have the 1925 taxes cleaned up by the June meeting, thus completing his work with the School Board.

James F. Purse was appointed to take the school census of the borough this summer.

LEAGUE OPENS SEASON

The baseball season of the Main Line League starts tomorrow with three games. The opening tilts of the first half are Wayne at Narberth, Berwyn at Autocar, and Preston at Brookline Square Club.

Women Big Aid in Primary, Party Head Says---Candidates Comment

The women voters of Lower Merion and Narberth are credited with being largely responsible for the big majority the Pepper-Fisher ticket ran up in this section. There was some drifting away from regular party banners among the men, but the women as a whole remained constant to Senator Pepper.

Commenting on the primary results Peter C. Hess, president of the Lower Merion and Narberth Republican Association, said: "I want to thank the Republican women of the district for the invaluable service they rendered in helping roll up majorities for the Pepper-Fisher ticket here. I also think that the members of the association are to be congratuated on the splendid vote that Lower Merion and Narberth gave to the candidates on the regular party ticket."

Sought for comment on the outcome Tuesday, Assemblyman Benjamin H. Ludlow, who lost the nomination for the State Senate to James S. Boyd, said: "I have lost my fight and that is all there is to that. I think it was a good fight, especially in view of the short campaign. I greatly appreciate the help given me by workers in all districts.

"As for the results of the Pepper-Vare contest, I am deeply and bitterly disappointed. Those

BORO MAN FINDS HUB OF UNIVERSE

Has 20 Proofs of Theory That Andromeda Spiral Is Centre.

IMMENSE POSSIBILITIES

That the billions of heavenly bodies which make up the Milky Way do not comprise a chaotic system, but a galactic spiral of stars, forming a perfect organism of which a mighty sun is the centre, is the theory of John A. Snyder, of No. 1201 Woodside avenue, Narberth. Professor Snyder is instructor of astronomy at Central High School, Philadelphia, a fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society of England and a member of the Philadelphia Observatory.

"The hub of the universe," says Professor Snyder, "is the great Andromeda nebula, previously looked upon as a distant island universe and thought to be unrelated to the Milky Way, although it lay upon its southern order. Twenty years of research into the properties of matter under conditions of vast pressure and changes of pressure within heavenly bodies, together with years of study of the interior mechanisms of a star, and into the causes of its surface ruptures and explosions, and into the origin of its system of surrounding bodies, have all led to the point where we can now locate the parent sun in a great system by the lay of its stellar offspring.

Andromeda is Parent Sun.
"The great Andromeda spiral proves to be the centre of the vast Milky Way spiral in which we live. This vast central rotating and explosive sun is the parent of all the suns and clouds of suns in the Galaxy. It is the cradle of the stellar universe and the fountain source of it all.

"Andromeda has been said to be moving upwards at nearly 200 miles per second. Here is a case of relativity. There is a lessening of the distance, as the spectroscopic reveals, but our local star cluster containing all the nearby stars and having a truly spiral form is dashing along the Milky Way with one component

George K. Erb, of Bell Company, Talks to Rotarians.

George K. Erb, suburban district manager of the Bell Telephone Company, was speaker Tuesday at the weekly meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

He traced the history of the telephone industry for the past 50 years, both in the State and in the local exchanges. He called attention to the fact that in 1900 the first exchange in Cynwyd consisted of 14 telephones, whose central office was located in the rear of King's drug store.

An invitation was extended to the members to visit the exchange building on Levering Mill road.

Several members of the club attended the Gil Palen night at the Ardmore Club last night.

Ludlow Only Candidate to Break Through Regular Slate---Loses in County---Peters Wins Easily

BROKE THROUGH

Benjamin H. Ludlow, who broke through the organization slate in Lower Merion and Narberth to carry 10 districts in his fight for nomination as State Senator. He lost in the county to James S. Boyd, slate candidate.

PINCHOT AND EVANS BOTH LEFT IN REAR

While Congressman William S. Vare was rolling up a huge majority in Philadelphia Tuesday, which was to send him to victory over George Wharton Pepper in the three-cornered fight for the United States senatorship nomination, the Lower Merion and Narberth Republican organization was turning in for Pepper at the rate of 3 to 1. In Narberth alone, Pepper outvoted Vare by over 5 to 1.

With the single exception of Benjamin H. Ludlow, who took the first legislative district from James S. Boyd, by a plurality of 694, the organization carried every man on its ticket to victory.

It gave Senator Pepper 5154 votes to Vare's 1565 in Lower Merion and Narberth; Fisher, 5519 to 1183 for Beidleman for Governor; Smith, 4590 to 596 for James for lieutenant governor; and Woodward, 6546 for secretary of internal affairs.

Edward S. Haws, of Dudley avenue, ex-postmaster was selected by the Democrats of the First Legislative District to oppose Fred C. Peters in the general election.

In the first legislative district which includes three wards in West Conshohocken, three wards in Bridgeport and two districts in Upper Merion, in addition to the 16 in Lower Merion and Narberth, the organization gave Watson (unopposed) for Congress, 7110 votes; for State Senate, Boyd 3362 to 4056 for Ludlow; for assembly, Peters 5211 to 1624 for Skelton and 1489 for McKernan.

Vare Stronger Than Expected.

County Leader Charles Johnson was nominated to the State Republican Committee by a vote of 6416 in the first district. Mabel Kirkbride was named to the woman's post on the same committee by a total of 5898.

Vare made a stronger showing there than he was expected late last week. It was then believed that a vote of approximately 5 to 1 would be rolled up against him, but his wet plank attracted numerous voluntary supporters who cut this down to a 3 to 1 ratio.

West Ardmore and Pencoyd both gave Vare pluralities of seven votes each. Pencoyd was expected to turn in for the Philadelphia boss, but the West Ardmore result was a bit of a surprise.

Vare fared badly in Narberth, where he only collected 166 votes to 811 for Senator Pepper.

Candidate John S. Fisher ran ahead of his ticket in the township and in Narberth borough. He polled four votes for governor to every one cast for Beidleman on the Vare slate.

COMMITTEE FIGHTS

Two fights for berths on the County Committee developed in Narberth. Margaret G. Town won easily in District No. 1. The other contest, between Mrs. Anna H. Darville and Mrs. Mary N. Griswold, in District No. 3, was closer.

The results of the committee votes were:

District 1—Charles V. Noel, 270; Lola D. Achenbach, 66; Margaret G. Town, 214.

District 2—William S. Thompson, 348; Carrie L. Douglass, 340.

District 3—J. Bertram Nesper, 255; Mrs. Anna Darville, 149; Mrs. Mary N. Griswold, 156.

BAND CONCERT

The Lower Merion band, with 40 pieces, under the direction of Fred C. Patton, gave a pleasing concert Wednesday at the Junior High School, before a disappointingly small audience.

TESTIMONIAL TO BE HELD TONIGHT

"Full House" Is Promised at Banquet Given by Legion

AT COMMUNITY CENTER

The caterers for the Legion's housewarming party tonight estimate the "comfortable" banquet capacity of the new legion room in the Community Building as 100, allowing ample room for orchestra and entertainers.

As this article is written the committee reports 80 advance reservations, so that a capacity attendance is expected and being provided for. The committee has expressed their appreciation of the quick response on the part of the citizens in making early reservations. This banquet breaks all speed records in local Legion banquet activities, the plan being conceived, adopted, set in motion and concluded in about one week's time.

The committee also has received contributions from a number of its friends, who through previous engagements, will be unable to attend. These generous subscriptions are making possible a more elaborate entertainment program than originally contemplated. The names of these citizens whose generosity will add much enjoyment to the evening will be published in the next edition of "Our Town."

McGovern's Orchestra, augmented by a song leader and two well-known comedians, will furnish the entertainment for the evening.

The guests of honor will be the citizens responsible for bringing into being and maintaining the new Community Building.

Jacob F. Miller, vice commander, Department of Pennsylvania, and Benjamin A. Howarth, commander Ninth District of Pennsylvania, will be in attendance. The dinner will start at 6.45 P. M. sharp. The remaining reservations can be procured from G. D. Bullock; phone Narberth 607J or the Adelizzi store.

TO TEACH IN WEST

Dr. Leroy A. King, secretary of the Narberth School Board and a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, will leave Tuesday with his family for Berkeley, Calif., where he will lecture for six weeks at the University of California, returning in September.

They will motor both ways, taking in many points of interest during the trip. During the summer their home on Grayling avenue will be occupied by Prof. J. R. Edmondson, of the University of Michigan, who will lecture at Penn during the summer session.

SCHOOL DEDICATED

The new Merion School on Bowman avenue was dedicated Thursday with much ceremony.

who voted for Congressman Vare made a mistake. I haven't the exact figures before me, but I doubt if 50 per cent. of those enrolled cast a vote. It looks like another victory taken by default."

Assemblyman Ludlow wrote Mr. Boyd Wednesday congratulating him on his victory. He spiked rumors that he might run against his victorious opponent as an independent in the fall election. "There is nothing at all to such reports," he declared.

"I had some opposition in West Ardmore and South Ardmore for a while," said Fred C. Peters, who won the Assembly nomination, "but things straightened out in the end. The party supporters got out and worked wonderfully Tuesday. Thank all of the people for me," he concluded.

Joseph J. Skelton, defeated candidate for Assembly was of the opinion that the results might have been somewhat different if there hadn't been a United States Senatorship issue to carry the regular party candidates along.

"I can't see where the organization did anything that reflects especial credit on it for the outcome of the primaries Tuesday. If it hadn't been for the women, they would have been licked. I still think the issue is wet and dry and this campaign showed it. I wonder what action the organization will take now to endorse Vare, who won and should have their backing as the Republican nominee."

ly one-fourth of the vote by which Senator Pepper carried Montgomery county. This district gave the senator a plurality of 3589 votes and County Leader Johnson has claimed the county for Pepper by a vote of approximately 13,000.

Governor Pinchot, third aspirant for the United States Senatorship, collected such a scant vote here that even observers, who last week predicted he would run a bad third, were surprised. He corralled only 416 votes in the 16 districts of Lower Merion and Narberth.

Ludlow's victory over the organization in the first district did not come in the nature of a surprise. Organization leaders admitted last week that he would break even and might emerge triumphant here in his home territory.

Loses in County.

Though Mr. Ludlow went into the county with a 600 vote lead on his organization opponent, James S. Boyd, he was unable to overcome the large majorities which Norristown threw to its favorite son. He was further handicapped in his independent fight by the anti-organization candidacy in the outer part of the county of Burd P. Evans, of Trappe, the third aspirant for the senatorial toga. As anticipated by pre-election dopesters, Ludlow and Evans killed each other off.

Boyd won in the county by a plurality of 3862. The vote was Boyd 15,786, Ludlow 11,924 and Evans 6233.

Ludlow carried seven districts of Lower Merion and all three of Narberth. His home district, North Ardmore, gave him his largest vote of 634. Boyd polled 103 here, which made it a plurality of 531. South Ardmore turned in for Ludlow with a plurality of 278. Other Lower Merion districts carried by the assemblyman were Rosemont, General Wayne, West Ardmore, Merion and Haverford. The vote in Bala and Cynwyd was much closer than at first anticipated.

Fred C. Peters, organization candidate for assembly, doubled the combined vote of his two opponents, Joseph Skelton, of Cynwyd, and Thomas C. McKernan, of Swedeland. His total for the entire district was 5211. Skelton lost every district, but in spite of that finished second. McKernan, third, carried four districts. Skelton got a larger vote in Narberth than was expected. He made no active campaign outside of Bala and Cynwyd.

Peters fared even better than political seers predicted last week. He captured all three wards in West Conshohocken which had been conceded to McKernan and also won the Upper District of Upper Merion, and another supposedly McKernan stronghold. Mr. Peters is a member of the Ardmore Legion Post and fellow Legionnaires are credited with being responsible for his triumph in the West Conshohocken wards. A new women's league recently organized in Upper District, Upper Merion, by Miss Ann W. Pechin, is given credit for the Peters' victory there.

GIRL SCOUTS FORM
MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Organization Meeting Last Week in New Home.

At the invitation of the leaders of the Narberth Girl Scout troop, the mothers of the Scouts met at the new room in the Community Building for tea on Wednesday of last week. The parents inspected the new headquarters and took up the suggestion of Captain Ruth H. Nash that a Mothers' Association be formed.

Mrs. W. J. Phillips, of Cynwyd, told the mothers of the success of a similar association recently formed for the Cynwyd troop. Mrs. W. A. Dyer, of Ardmore, represented the Main Line council and said a few words about this work.

An association was started with Mrs. W. E. Titus as chairman. The committee formed consists of Mrs. N. C. Rowley, Mrs. Walton M. Wentz, Mrs. Victor D. Abel and Mrs. F. T. Van Auken.

Notices will soon be sent out for a meeting at which time it is hoped that all Scout mothers will be present to assist in putting the new association in working order.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Erna Crassmuck, State Director of Geography, visited the school on Monday, May 17. At the close of school she gave a demonstration lesson with the sixth grade on the recent Arctic explorations and achievements.

On Monday afternoon the Camp Fire Girls went on a hike. Each girl brought her own lunch, and they fried beef steak out in the open. In the woods they saw a snake and Miss Eames killed it.

This week-end several of the teachers are going to Ocean City to a house party. We hope that they will have nice weather.

Two plays are to be given for commencement on June 17, "The Florist's Shop" and "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil." The pupils are to be chosen from the ninth grade.

Papers for the D. A. R. essays to the number of 20 have been received by Mrs. Elsbree. The prizes will be awarded on Friday, May 28.

DEPOSITS

The First Year Ending May 18th, 1926

Think of it! Just a year ago the Narberth National Bank made its official bow to the residents of this community, and today the evidence of its success is given with these figures—over $200,000 in deposits!

This is a remarkable growth for a bank so young to have attained, but the ripe experience of the Officers and Directors who have guided its affairs during this first year has hastened that youth to an early maturity.

Mere presentation of figures cannot give a clear idea of the success and prestige the bank enjoys. Having presented Narberth for the first time in its history with a modern banking house, equipped with safe deposit vaults and attractive facilities for the use of its patrons, the bank has continued to extend to the community new banking services and courteous attention to personal problems until its number of friends is continually growing and its reputation for progressiveness and dependability is becoming stronger each day.

Names That Will Live

Is your imagination strong? Then let it carry you some months into the future to the time when the enlarged Bryn Mawr Hospital shall have been completed. Let us go through the new building and see the work it is doing.

We go from floor to floor, catching glimpses here and there of hopeful patients who have just come in, and bright-eyed ones who will soon be going. We notice, on many of the doors, bronze tablets of simple design. What are they, and what do they mean?

Reading one, we find that two parents have given a four-bed ward "in loving memory of our daughter." Another, on the door of a busy treatment room, bears a single name—a living name, well known and loved in our community.

These units are Memorials, dedicated to service to humanity. Individuals and families created them, by making their gifts to the fund equal to the cost of building the parts of the new hospital which they chose to make their own.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTS THREE NEW TEACHERS

A special committee appointed to take up the matter of tax collecting commissions reported at the meeting. This committee has met with a similar committee of borough council and the new tax collector, Mrs. Abbie Nickerson Diven, to adjust the compensation for the current year.

Because of the extraordinary increase in the amount to be collected, due to the increase in borough taxes, an adjustment of the percentage basis for collection was found advisable. The board cut its percentage from 3 per cent. to 2 per cent. and council will be asked to cut theirs from 2 per cent., with 5 per cent. for delinquent taxes, to a flat 2 per cent.

The result of this adjustment, it is believed, will keep the collection costs at about the same figure as in the past. The tax collector accepted the committee's recommendation.

The board voted to deposit a part of its funds in the Narberth National Bank beginning with the new fiscal year in July. The deposits will be divided between the National Bank and the Merion Title and Trust Company.

The next meeting will be June 14.

COMPANY PRAISED

Underwriters Rank Narberth Firemen With Best in City.

The following interesting letter was received this week from the Philadelphia Suburban Underwriters by Chief Charles V. Noel, of the Narberth Fire Company: Philadelphia, May 10, 1926.

Mr. Charles V. Noel, Narberth, Pa.

Dear Chief:

I intended writing you before in commendation of the manner in which the Narberth Fire Department conducted themselves at the garage fire in the yard of the Narberth Coal Co.

I attended this fire from the beginning and I believe I am safe in stating that your men are as alert as the ordinary paid department men and handle their apparatus like veterans.

This fire looked at the start as though your business district was in for a real gutting, but the speedy response of the apparatus and quick action of your men stopped what promised to be a big fire.

This is not the first time that I have watched your men work. To be candid I will say that I have investigated your fires after they are out to note for my own purposes whether the use of excess water added to the damage, especially to dwellings, and I cannot too highly commend your department on your fire methods which down the loss and damage.

I believe that the training offered your men by yourself and your instructing officer from the Philadelphia Fire Department has certainly been properly instilled into the minds of your men, and I do not hesitate to congratulate you, your assistants and your fire fighting force for your efficient handling of apparatus and appliances.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) THOMAS F. DWYER,

Engineer.

Junior Elephants Lead.

On Saturday, May 15, the Red Sox failed to put a team on the field so forfeited its game to the Junior Elephants. This puts the Junior Elephants into the lead of the Junior Main Line League. On the same date the Indians defeated the Junior Eagles. Fricke and Woodbury for the Indians and W. Middleton and Wannop for the Junior Eagles were the batteries. This week the Junior Elephants will play the Indians. A victory for the Indians will put them in a tie for first place.

LUTHERAN CONCERT

Well Received by Audience Last Thursday.

On Thursday evening, May 13, a recital of unusual excellence was held in the Lutheran Church. Those who were not present missed a rare treat. The double piano numbers by Miss Middleton and Miss McLinn were rendered with a degree of skill which drew from the audience most hearty applause. Mrs. Bailey's rendition of Verdi's Ritorna Vincitor from Aida was admirable. Mr. Conwell, whom we had the pleasure of hearing last year, sang two groups with considerable power. The numbers of all the artists were well chosen. Judging by the enthusiastic comments heard afterwards, we know that the concert was an unusual success. Much of the success was due to Miss Ruth McLinn, who worked untiringly for it. In her accompanying work, in the double piano numbers and in the solo work, Miss McLinn proved herself an artist of great merit.

CIRCULATION INCREASED

Library Gains in Readers and in Receipts Despite Moving.

In spite of the slight confusion due to the change of location the Narberth Community Library has shown a gain during its first two weeks in the new building both in the number of new applicants to borrow books and in the number of books distributed. In the corresponding two weeks of May, 1925, there were distributed 766 books, while in the two weeks just passed 860 books were distributed, showing a gain of about 50 books each week. In addition to this statistical gain, there is one more difficult to measure in the pride and satisfaction with which residents of the town regard the building and its new equipment.

Someone remarked that he thought the books new also, until a closer examination revealed the familiar titles with his name on many of the charging cards. However, this critic generously admitted that there were many of the books which he had not read, and as there was always a supply coming in new to him, he never expected to be "caught up," and so would be at hand to watch every new stage in the future progress of the library. This sympathetic understanding shown by readers of the library is a source of great help and encouragement to the library staff, who are constantly striving to increase the efficiency of their service.

The library will be closed on Monday, May 31, to join in the observance of Memorial Day, but after the dedication exercises of the memorial to the war heroes, the library will be open for a short time to give anyone an opportunity to see the building. Photographs of the interior which have been taken for publicity purposes by Yawman and Erbe, who supplied the shelves and other furniture, will be shown in the library this week.

"CENTRE OF UNIVERSE" IS FOUND BY BORO RESIDENT

of its motion, indicating a movement in the direction of the Andromeda of 200 miles a second. The presence of such a motion is indicated by the calculations of several astronomers.

There are 20 proofs, Professor Snyder has found, of the contention that the Andromeda spiral is the centre of the vast Milky Way spiral in which we live. He discovered a dark elliptical lane in the Milky Way parallel to and symmetrical with the dark lines of the Andromeda spiral, thus proving it continuous with the Milky Way. Because of our northern viewpoint we displace the Andromeda nebula to the south.

• View Makes It Out of Plane.

Professor Snyder contends that this is merely because, placed to the north of the system, the world would view it on a 20 degree angle, which puts it out of the plane of the Milky Way. "Because of our northern viewpoint we have also displaced from the Milk Way southward three big Milky Way-like star clouds, namely, the Greater and the Lesser Magellanic Clouds and a smaller cloud designated N. G. C. 6822."

There are vast possibilities and implications wound up in this discovery of the Narberth astronomer, which is based on his work of 20 years and his father's before him. Professor Snyder, who received his degree of Master of Arts from the University of Pennsylvania, is arousing considerable attention in the scientific world with his research work.

Narberth Air Rifles Mowing Down Robins.

It is understood that the Narberth policemen have been asked to be on the lookout for boys and men who have been shooting robins and other song birds in various parts of the borough. In several instances, particularly in the Wynnewood avenue section of the south side, robins that had apparently been killed by rifle shots have been found on lawns, while in a number of cases the birds had been so badly wounded and crippled that they have been unable to walk, let alone fly. Shooting song birds, besides being about as mean a "sport" as anyone can engage in, should be stopped for other reasons. Without these birds to destroy countless insects it would be almost impossible to have flower and vegetable gardens, and with their bright plumage and their cheery songs and whistles they go a long way toward making Narberth the attractive and desirable suburban community that it is.
